

Abby's Amazing Adventures

in coronavirus times

Abby lives in Washington DC.

One morning Abby went for a short walk.
Very soon she was in front of the Lincoln Memorial.
She climbed the stairs and entered.

Abby likes the Lincoln Memorial.
The ceilings are so high!
It is almost always empty these days.
Just Lincoln and Abby.
And Daddy.

The George Washington University campus is just next door.

Many pretty places here,
and they are empty and inviting.

The Kennedy Center is also rather close to Abby's home. She walks there to meet her friends outside.

Georgetown is a much longer walk.
Abby's favorite place there is Georgetown University Campus.
It is empty and beautiful. So much to see and explore!

Manhattan is VERY FAR AWAY. Manhattan is in New York City.
Abby's cousins Jack and Ella live in Manhattan.
Abby and her parents drove to New York City to visit them.

To get to Savtee's and Saba's house Abby and her parents had to drive many many hours.
So far away it is.

Abby slept in the car
and played in the car
and listened to the music in the car.
At last they arrived...

Abby loved Savtee's Secret Garden.

It is a lot of fun to live in Savtee's and Saba's house

with lots of bears

in a beautiful succah

with so many crayons

with pink flowers

The petting ZOO also was a lot of fun.

Back in Washington Abby is exploring the National Mall again.

Just how wonderful is it---running across Kingscott Meadow?!

Whom do you meet at the market in December?
The Nutcracker !!!!!

On January 15th

many large cars and trucks and tents appeared everywhere around the National Mall.

On January 17th

Abby met soldiers and policemen right by her building.

So many people appeared at once on the streets that used to be empty.

Abby waved to these people,
smiled at them,
and they waved
and smiled back.

The next morning Abby walked out of her building to warm greetings:      MISS ABBY!      MISS ABBY!      MISS ABBY!

Abby smiled her beautiful smile and handed out little plastic bags with homemade cookies.

Everybody got Abby's cookies.

Every soldier!

Every policeman!

Even if she had to walk rather far.

All delivered!!!!!!

And the next morning they met again.
So many smiles.
So many cookies.
So many FRIENDS!

The next day,
three more surprises were awaiting Abby.

She got three gifts:
a toy,
a certificate, and

Who wants to hear about Abby's Amazing Adventures?

Abby will tell you all about them.

AND

Maybe Savtee could make a little book about them?
